Administrative Procedure

User Regulations

In order to use the Internet, library customers must agree to observe the following rules and regulations:

1. The library is committed to providing an environment free from sexual harassment. Do not display, send, receive, or print sexually explicit or pornographic images, graphics, or text. Violations of this policy may result in temporary or permanent withdrawal of Internet access, as outlined in "Policy Violations," below.
2. The library reserves the right to limit the amount of time of individual user sessions on the Internet.
3. Internet computers may be turned off five (5) minutes prior to the library's scheduled closing time.
4. The library reserves the right to require registration to use the Internet.
5. The library reserves the right to charge for printing from the Internet.
6. The Internet workstations must be used in a responsible manner, respecting the rights of others, and taking care with use of the equipment.
7. Computer and Internet settings may not be changed. Users may be charged for damage they cause to equipment.
8. The library's Internet service cannot be used for any fraudulent or unlawful purpose, including activities prohibited under any applicable federal, state or local laws.
9. Downloaded files must be saved to portable storage devices and not to the computer's hard drive.
10. Material on the Internet may be copyrighted. It is the responsibility of the user to be aware of the display of any notices concerning the copyright of the information on the Web and to respect the copyright laws of the United States.

Important User Information

No guarantee of privacy is made in regards to Internet access at the library. Users are encouraged to review the security of any site before transmitting data. Any data transmitted may be unsecured and while in transit may be observed by a third party or directed to an alternate site.

Documents and records created on the library's computers that interact with other public entities are subject to the public records laws that pertain to those agencies. Such documents and records become public records of those agencies.

The Delaware County District Library has installed filtering software in an attempt to control access to information and web sites not in accordance with this policy; however, no filtering software is failsafe. The library cannot be held responsible for the content of the Internet. It is the individual's responsibility to use the Internet wisely. Parents or guardians, not the library staff, are responsible for the Internet information selected and/or accessed by their children.

The library has not selected any of the information on the open Internet; therefore, the library does not guarantee that information from this source is factual, accurate, authoritative or complete. The library is not responsible for the quality or accuracy of information found on the Internet. It is recommended that particular caution be exercised when obtaining financial, medical or legal information from the Internet.

Downloaded software or files may contain viruses. The library is not responsible for damage to a user's electronic equipment for any loss of information, damage or liability that may occur from using the library's Internet access.

Policy Violations

Library employees are authorized to tell any user violating these regulations to stop immediately. Repeated violations of this policy will be addressed as follows:

- For the first violation, the user will be asked to stop engaging in the prohibited behavior. If he or she refuses, he or she will be asked to leave the Library for the remainder of the day.
- For a second violation, the user will be asked to leave the Library and will forfeit internet access for thirty days.
- For a third violation, the user will be asked to leave the Library and will forfeit Internet access indefinitely.

Accident or Emergency

Board Policy:

To provide a safe environment for visitors, customers and staff.

Administrative Procedure:

In the event that a customer, visitor or staff member sustains an injury or becomes ill on library property, the responsible staff member on duty should:

1. Render assistance using universal precautions as appropriate, such as taking the individual to the staff lounge or restroom.
2. Administer first aid treatment only to alleviate emergency situations, such as excessive bleeding. At no time should a staff member administer medication or attempt to clean or chemically treat a wound. First aid kits are available throughout all of the buildings, clearly marked with a red "X."
3. Ask the injured person whom to contact and make appropriate phone calls.
4. Call 911 (emergency squad) if required, such as unconsciousness, seizure, or serious injury, or if the injured person requests emergency transport.
5. If an employee is injured, check the personnel file for the name of the individual to be notified in case of emergency.
6. Stay with the injured person until medical help arrives or until the person is able to leave the library. Do not leave him or her unattended.
7. Complete a copy of the Accident Report Form found in the Forms File as soon as possible but within 24 hours of the incident and give it to the director.

Cash Collection Policy

Board Policy:

To maintain the security of Library funds, the Fiscal Officer is directed by the Board of Trustees to develop, distribute, and implement procedures addressing the provision of receipts to the payee(s), and proper segregation of duties for the receipting, depositing, recording, and reporting of cash.

Administrative Procedure:

1. Cash collection points are areas where money flows into the Library. Monies received at cash collection points must be deposited in accordance with this policy.
2. There are four locations with cash collection points in the Library system: Ostrander Branch, Powell Branch, Orange Branch and the Main Library. Identified cash collection points at these locations are circulation departments, and computer rooms. Other miscellaneous money comes to the Fiscal Officer in the form of grants, interest, donations, sale of fixed assets, and taxes.
3. Each location is responsible for collecting fines and fees, issuing patron receipts, and recording all collections on the Cash Drawer Receipt log.
4. Employees who receive money at cash collection points are responsible for its safekeeping until the money is deposited with the Fiscal Officer. The money should be secured in a locked desk, file cabinet, safe or other secure room at the library branch. It should not be taken home.
5. Each location will send the Cash Drawer Receipt log along with money collected to the Fiscal Officer in the security bag, at least twice weekly. If the amount collected is $1000.00 or more, it should be sent to the Fiscal Officer on the next business day.
6. The Fiscal Officer will reconcile the Cash Drawer Receipt Log and amount in secure bag and will deposit funds in the bank.
7. If the amount collected is less than $1000, the Fiscal Officer will deposit them no later than 3 business days after receiving it. If the amount collected is $1000.00 or more, the Fiscal Officer will deposit it on the next business day.

Citizen's Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials

Collection Development Policy

Board Policy:

To provide a well-defined, responsive and comprehensive collection of library material to the Delaware community, following the guidelines established in a Collection Development Policy that is reviewed and revised on a regular basis.

Mission

The Delaware County District Library serves as the public information provider for our community, using traditional and innovative technology to encourage curiosity, free inquiry and lifelong learning in a friendly environment.

Introduction

The Library's collection development policy provides a written definition of the scope and nature of its existing collection. In addition, this policy outlines a means for continuing development of the Library's resources to meet its institutional goals, to provide general selection criteria, and to foster intellectual freedom. "Library collection" and the standards of selection included herein will apply to all items acquired for use by the public in any format.

The selection objectives of the Delaware County District Library are:

- ◆ To help people know more about themselves and their world;
- ◆ To supplement formal study and encourage informal self-education;
- ◆ To meet the information and entertainment needs of the community;
- ◆ To stimulate thoughtful and informed participation in community, country and world affairs;
- ◆ To support the community's educational, civic, cultural and recreational activities;
- ◆ To assist in the learning and improvement of job-related skills;
- ◆ To provide material to help people attain citizenship
- ◆ To assist with individual intellectual and spiritual growth, and to heighten the enjoyment of life.

Because no library budget or building is large enough to permit the purchase of every worthy resource, this policy guides the staff in the most effective use of the Library's financial resources to meet the present and anticipated needs of the community.

Except where noted, the Selection Committee, whose structure is described under "Organization of Selectors," will select all Library material.

Scope

The collection of the Delaware County District Library includes material in print, audio, visual, and digital formats selected for the community. Typically, the print and nonprint collections of the Library serve the general needs and interests of the Delaware community. It is intended to introduce and define a subject rather than to address highly specialized needs.

To meet the demand for the specialized information that is out of its collection development scope, the Library participates in resource sharing collaborations to provide individual access to information and material. It should be noted, however, that the use of resource sharing is not intended to substitute for sound collection development.

Included in the scope of the Delaware County District Library is material in languages other than English, as the changing demographics of the community demands.

Responsibilities for Material Selection

Ultimate responsibility for the selection of print and nonprint material, as with all Library activities, rests with the Library Director, operating within a framework of policies determined by the Library's Board of Trustees. While the Selection Committee comprised of members of the professional staff share the responsibility for selection, the Director must be accountable to both the Library's Board of Trustees and to the general public. The Director, therefore, retains final authority to approve or reject any items selected by staff.

Organization of Selectors

The Library Director appoints the Selection Committee of the Delaware County District Library. Members of this committee will use a variety of recognized professional tools, media information and public input to search for, evaluate and select materials they believe are appropriate for inclusion in the collection.

Principles

No policy can replace the judgment of librarians. Instead, this policy will assist in the selection of library material. Good material selection must be based on a thorough knowledge of the community's needs, resources and issues, combined with a thorough knowledge of the Library's collection and overall balance.

The selection of all library material should be as objective as possible. Selection influenced by personal prejudice, especially when rejecting an item or items is censorship. When selecting material of a controversial nature, members of the Library's Selection Committee will make every attempt to present balanced points of view and opinion. Popular demand will be taken into account in order to maintain community interest in and support of the Library; however, material selection by popular demand must be guided by consideration of merit, use, cost and balance in the Library's overall collection. Selectors will abide by both the Freedom to Read policy and the Library Bill of Rights as set forth in the Library's Operation Policy Manual. The selection of material by the Selection Committee is geared toward interests of the majority within the service district, and not to satisfy any specific academic need or special interest group(s). Material selection will be judged upon authoritativeness and the overall effectiveness of presentation. Each item will be considered in total and not judged by any of its parts.

The materials budget will be expended to meet the demands placed upon it, and to insure that those demands are proportionately served. In regard to areas of controversial material, a limited budget cannot excuse a one-sided collection.

Each suggested title must be given an honest, objective appraisal analysis prior to purchase. If a requested title does not meet the Library's Collection Development Policy, the Selection Committee member is not justified in buying it. Selection by the Library staff of any material should not be construed as the Library's endorsement of the views or opinions contained therein.

Criteria for Selection

The following is a list of general criteria to be considered in the selection of library materials in whatever format or for whatever age the material is intended. This list is not in priority order, nor is it meant to be exhaustive. Material selected will not necessarily reflect all of these criteria.

- ◆ Educational Value
- ◆ Public demand
- ◆ Insight into human and social conditions
- ◆ The suitability of subject and style for the intended audience
- ◆ Present and potential relevance to community needs and interests
- ◆ Timeliness or permanent value
- ◆ Relation to the existing collection
- ◆ Attention of critics and reviews, whether positive or negative
- ◆ Scarcity of information in the subject area
- ◆ Availability of material elsewhere in the community
- ◆ Price
- ◆ Format
- ◆ Authority
- ◆ Comprehensiveness and depth of treatment
- ◆ Clarity, accuracy and logic of treatment
- ◆ Vitality and originality
- ◆ Artistic presentation
- ◆ Authenticity of historical, regional or social setting
- ◆ Sustained interest, demand and entertainment value
- ◆ Local historical value

According to standards set forth by the Ohio Library Council, at least 25% of all library material should have been published within the last five years.

If a member of the public would like to suggest that a particular title be added to the Library's collection, he or she may contact Library staff to request the title. The request will be referred to the member of the Selection Committee who is responsible for purchasing material in that area of the Library's collection.

Local Authors

In recognition of local literary and creative efforts, the Library includes works by local authors in its collection. When works by local authors or creators are being considered for inclusion, the selection criteria outlined in this policy may be relaxed or modified at the discretion of the Selection Committee or the Library Director.

Exclusion of Materials

The Library Director is expressly charged with the legal and professional obligation to execute, in good faith and with the highest degree of skills, the Library's Collection Development Policy. The Director has a professional obligation to resist with equal good faith, skill and vigor, any and all efforts by any person or group, when directed to him or her, to compel a modification of material selection or services based upon criteria that are substantially in conflict with the policies established by the Library's Board of Trustees.

No material will be excluded because of race, nationality, disability, age, political, social or religious views of the originator. By providing free and open access to diverse information and viewpoints, the Library may serve as a cornerstone of the principles of a democratic society.

From time to time materials may be purchased for the Library that some users might find shocking and/or inappropriate; however, if such materials meet the standards of this Collection Development Policy, the interests and standards of the community and are of relevant value, the Library is justified in purchasing such materials. Disapproval of an item by an individual or group should not be the means by which that item is denied to all individuals or groups.

Although materials of a sensational nature are not knowingly added to the collection, works that present an honest and realistic picture of controversial issues or aspects of life are not excluded because of the frankness of language, description, or depiction.

While the Library's collection supplements formal study, it is not within its scope to support area schools' curricula by providing multiple copies of books for use in or out of the classroom.

Library materials are not marked or labeled in any way that indicates approval or disapproval of their contents. Labels or ratings that provide assessments such as "This material contains language that some may find offensive" are not applied to the item by the Library. Library materials are selected in their entirety and not subject to modification or alteration by the library staff.

The responsibility for monitoring a minor's reading, listening or viewing rests solely with the parent or legal guardian. Selection of library materials is not restricted by the possibility that a child may obtain materials that a parent or guardian consider inappropriate.

Weeding

Discarding of library materials is necessary to maintain a vital, useful and well-ordered collection. The purpose of weeding is to provide for a regular re-evaluation of the collection in conjunction with the selection of new and replacement material. An active and continuous weeding program is essential to maintain a viable and useful collection. Approximately 5% of the total collection will be withdrawn annually, and Selection Committee members are responsible for weeding the specific subject areas for which they select.

Any material taking up space that could otherwise be more profitably used by other material that is not circulating is subject to re-evaluation and discard by a collection committee member or the Library Director. This includes nonfiction that is no longer current or accurate, and once-popular fiction that is no longer in demand. Items that are weeded will be donated to the Friends of the Delaware County District Library or to other groups or organizations consistent with the Library's mission.

Criteria for Weeding

Selection of material for discarding is based on the following criteria:

- ◆ Material worn or irreparable through use
- ◆ Material which is no longer timely
- ◆ Material no longer considered accurate or factual
- ◆ Material which has had little recent use and is of questionable value
- ◆ Excess copies of a specific title that is no longer in demand

While the library attempts to maintain copies of standard and important works, it does not automatically replace all materials that have been withdrawn. The Library's collection is not intended to be and shall not be considered archival. The same criteria that apply to the original selection also will apply to material replacement. The need for replacement is based on:

- ◆ Number of available duplicate copies
- ◆ Adequate coverage of a particular subject in the collection
- ◆ Demand for the specific title or subject area
- ◆ Availability of material through other means such as Interlibrary Loan (ILL)

Gifts and Donations

The Library always welcomes monetary gifts. At the Director's discretion, these gifts are used to purchase material suggested by the donor. The Library will maintain a record and acknowledgement of such gifts. With the approval of the donor, a bookplate is placed in each item purchased with gift monies.

The Library does not commit itself to accepting all donations of material. Donated materials are subject to the same selection criteria applied to new purchases. Donated items may be added to the collection, sold, donated to other organizations, or disposed of. All gifts and donations become the property of the Library, without restriction, and will not be returned to the donor.

Upon request, the Library will provide a receipt that details the date and number of pieces donated by format, but will not undertake any kind of price/value appraisal of such items. Library staff should explain to potential donors that their donated items might not be added to the collection and should detail their possible disposition.

Memorials and Endowments

Permanent or temporary memorials are established at the Library at the discretion of the Library Board. Memorials will always include bookplates. The Library staff maintains a record and acknowledgement of the endowment and memorial purchases.

Challenged Materials

Criticism of any item in the Library's collection by an individual or group will be registered on a "Citizen's Request for Reconsideration of Library Material" form and presented to the Director. The item will be reviewed by the Director who will utilize the Library's selection criteria and formulate an appropriate response to the challenger. If the challenger wishes to pursue the issue further, he or she may schedule a meeting with the President of the Board of Trustees, his/her designate, or, at the discretion of the board President, the entire board. In extreme cases, when the Director and the Board find that the challenge represents a threat to intellectual freedom, and cannot be resolved by conciliatory procedures, the Board may authorize one or more of the following actions:

- ◆ The seeking of legal advice;
- ◆ An accurate and complete statement of information made available to all local news media;
- ◆ The reporting of the incident to the American Library Association's Office of Intellectual Freedom, and other appropriate entities. (This is a re-formatting of the original version)

In those cases, where a threat to intellectual freedom is coupled with a threat of dismissal against the Director and/or other members of the Library staff, the Board will provide moral support to the librarian(s) to resist, provide factual support in documented evidence, authorize monetary support for legal aid, and identify the most appropriate funding sources.

The title under consideration will remain in the Library's collection throughout the process to support the freedom of other patrons to read, listen or view.

Revision

This policy will be continuously reviewed by the staff and formally reviewed by Library staff and the Board of Trustees at least every three years, being revised where needed, in accordance of the Ohio Library Council's Standards for Public Library Services in Ohio, 2010 Revision.

Eligibility for Borrowing

Board Policy:

To provide for the issuance of library cards to eligible Ohio residents.

Administrative Procedure:

1. New borrowers must complete an application for and provide verification of identity and current address to receive their cards immediately. People unable to provide address verification will have library cards mailed to them.
2. Residents of any age may become registered borrowers. A parent or legal guardian of an applicant under the age of 18 must sign the child's library card application. Library staff has the right to request age verification before a card is issued. A parent's signature is required on the application form. If a parent or guardian is not present at the time of application by the minor child, the library card will be mailed to the child in care of the parent.
3. Institutional cards will be issued to organizations and schools at the request of the CEO, superintendent or other authorized individual. Organizations to which a card is issued must agree to accept financial responsibility for all library material borrowed on that card.
4. Library cards are issued for three years.
5. Expired cards will be renewed at no cost.
6. There may be a $1.00 fee for the replacement of lost library cards.
7. Anyone wishing to borrow material from the Library must present a valid Library card and his account must be in good standing. If a customer is a valid, registered borrower but does not have his physical Library card with him at the time of check out, he may present valid photo identification such as a driver's license as an alternate form of identity to check out material.

Emergency Closing

The Library may close when emergencies arise that interfere with the safe and effective operation of a library building. The Director, or, in his/her absence, the Deputy Director, or the President of the Board of Trustees, will determine when the Library will close during an emergency or a catastrophe. The Director will then immediately notify the Board and the staff using the Disaster Response Plan notification system (call tree).

Emergencies may include but are not limited to:

- Loss of heating or cooling
- Loss of utility service
- Inclement weather events
- Level two (2) or Level three (3) Snow Emergency as declared by the Delaware County Sheriff
- If Delaware County is identified by the state as a Public Emergency Level three (3) County (red), the Library will close its buildings but continue to offer curbside or drive-through service and electronic access. If Delaware County is identified as a Public Emergency Level four (4) County (purple) and a Stay at Home order is issued, the Library will stop all services other than electronic access.

The Sheriff's website at <http://www.delawarecountysheriff.com/> is the official source that will be used for snow emergency information. The call tree will be utilized to notify you when the Library is closing and reopening in case of a snow emergency.

If the Library closes for an emergency, all employees scheduled to work will be paid for the hours scheduled. Employees using scheduled compensatory, sick, or vacation time or other leave time (i.e., Family and Medical Leave, Leave of Absence Without Pay, Military Leave) will have their hours recorded as scheduled.

The Bookmobile and delivery vans may be taken off the road when the rest of the Library system is open. In the event of high winds, life-threatening wind chill, or other locally dangerous conditions, the Library Director, the Deputy Director, and the Outreach Manager will decide when to take the vehicles off the road. In such a situation, Outreach Department staff will attempt to contact individuals and organizations affected by the service interruption.

6. If an item is lost or irreparably damaged, the original price that the library paid for the item (if known) will be charged to the customer; otherwise, the customer will be charged a predetermined default cost for the item. As noted above, any fines or fees assessed to DCDL by another library for material lost by a DCDL customer via an interlibrary lending arrangement will be charged to the customer requesting the material.
7. No refunds will be issued after an item is declared "lost" if the item is subsequently returned to the library. The customer may keep the damaged item after payment has been made.

3. A customer may not pay anything toward a balance owed if he is in the process of a bankruptcy.
4. When a customer is in the process of a bankruptcy and the customer owes a debt to the Library, the customer may not check out any items.

6. The Fiscal Officer will send a copy of the notice to the Circulation Manager, who will:
 - a. Make a copy of the customer's record listing any material charged to his card.
 - b. Document actions taken in notes field of the customer's record.
7. If the customer receives a discharge from the bankruptcy court and presents the appropriate documents to the Library, he shall have outstanding balances for fines and fees removed from his account. Only fines and fees discharged by the decree will be waived.

Firearms

To create and maintain an environment at the Delaware County District Library that is free from firearms.

As stated in Ohio Revised Code, Sec. 2923.126, no citizen except, law enforcement officers, and security officers contracted by the Library, may bring a firearm, deadly weapon, or dangerous ordnance into a public library or onto library property. This law applies equally to those with or without a concealed carry permit. Signs indicating the Library is a firearms free facility are posted at all locations, as stated in Ohio Revised Code, Sec. 2923.1212.

As stated in Ohio Revised Code, Sec. 2923.1210, a person may transport or store a firearm or ammunition in his or her vehicle on library property and library parking lots when both of the following conditions are met:

(1) Each firearm and all of the ammunition remains inside the person's privately owned motor vehicle while the person is physically present inside the motor vehicle, or each firearm and all of the ammunition is locked within the trunk, glove box, or other enclosed compartment or container within or on the person's privately owned motor vehicle;

(2) The vehicle is in a location where it is otherwise permitted to be.

An employee in possession of any firearm, ammunition, deadly weapon, or dangerous ordnance while on Library property, or while operating a Library motor vehicle, or while on Library business other than within the limits enumerated above in Ohio Revised Code, Sec. 2923.1210 will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Fixed Asset Policy

Board Policy:

To maintain Fixed Asset records for all items which have an initial value of $800.00 or greater.

Administrative Procedure

The Fixed Asset records shall maintain sufficient information to permit the following:

1. Identification and cost of the Fixed Asset
2. Adequate insurance coverage and records in the event of a loss.
3. Control and accountability of assets for the Board of Trustees.
4. Records for asset valuation and verification should the accounting standards for libraries change to require balance sheet recognition.

Fixed Assets are defined as tangible assets for the Library with:

1. a useful life in excess of one year and an initial cost of $800.00 or greater.
2. items that become part of the facilities
3. landscape, parking lot, or building that have an initial cost of $1,000.00 or greater will be included in the other capital outlay category. (This can include the purchase of professional services, such as architectural, engineering or legal fees, that are expended as part of the improvement.)

2. Improvements to the physical plant (such as water heaters, boilers, or shelving) that are greater than $1,000.00 will not be tagged, but will be included in the other capital outlay category.

Freedom to Read and Freedom to View

Board Policy:

To support the concept of intellectual freedom by endorsing the American Library Association's "Freedom to Read" and "Freedom to View" statements.

THE FREEDOM TO READ

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.
2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.
3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.
4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.
5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.
6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.
7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

Note: "Books" as used in this statement includes all kinds of materials acquired for library use.

THE FREEDOM TO VIEW

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

The complete "Freedom to Read" and Freedom to View" statements can be found at www.ala.org.

Letters to the Editor

A letter to the editor is an expression of opinion by its author, and as such, it may not always be appropriate for the Library to respond to it. However, if the letter to the editor contains inaccuracies or untruths that may be detrimental to the Library, it may be perfectly appropriate to draft a response.

When a letter to the editor concerning the Library, its staff or its operations is published, the Library Director, in consultation with the Board President and/or members of the Board of Trustees will determine the suitable response, which may be no response; writing to the author directly; writing an editorial; or, addressing the issue through a press release or other public media outlets. The goal should be to minimize any negative publicity for the Library and avoid a public rebuttal letter to the editor if possible.

If a written response is deemed necessary, The Director will draft it with input from the Board, and depending on the importance of the content, the response may be issued under the Director's hand or under that of the President of the Board.

Under no circumstances will the Director respond publicly and in writing to a letter to the editor without consulting the Board President, who will determine if the Board should also be consulted. Responses to letters to the editor from individual board members without prior consultation with the Board President and/or the Director are discouraged.

3. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
4. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
5. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
6. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Paging Customers in the Library

Board Policy: To protect the privacy of Library customers whenever possible, the locating, identifying or paging of patrons in the Library except in emergency situations is prohibited.

Administrative Procedures:

1. Library staff will not page anyone for the benefit of a third party, except in emergency situations.
2. Library staff are permitted to ask the nature of the emergency.
3. Staff should avoid confirming or denying the presence of Library patrons in the buildings.
4. An appropriate response to a request to page or locate a patron should be: "The Library will page people in case of medical emergencies only. If this is not an emergency, I can take the name and description of the person you're looking for. If I locate them, I'll be happy to pass along a message on your behalf."

Patron Complaints

Board Policy

To be receptive and responsive to concerns or complaints from the public regarding library policies or procedures.

Administrative Procedure

1. If a patron has a concern or complaint about a specific library policy, the staff member should refer the complaint to his/her supervisor.
2. The patron should be asked if he/she would like to complete the "Suggestion/Concern Form." Written complaints should be given to the Director.
3. The supervisor should attempt to resolve the complaint if at all possible.
4. If the supervisor cannot resolve the complaint, the patron should be referred to the Director or the senior staff member in the event of the Director's absence.
5. The Director or her designee will then take appropriate action, which may include referring the incident to the Board of Trustees.
6. Serious complaints should always be documented. Staff should complete an "Incident Report Form" if the complaint was in any way abusive or profane.

Political Activity

Board Policy:

To promote a free and democratic society, the library will serve as an information resource for the community on a wide variety of political issues and candidates for offices.

Administrative Procedure:

1. The library will make every effort to contact candidates and issues' committees prior to each election, notifying them that space will be made available for their campaign literature.
2. The library will provide space for campaign literature or position papers and make these available at each of the library's locations for inspection and distribution.
3. The library makes no claim to the accuracy of the information provided by candidates or issues' committees.
4. It is the responsibility of the candidate to ensure that an adequate supply of literature is available for distribution.
5. Public presentations by candidates for office or supporters of ballot issues are encouraged and may be held in the library's meeting room, providing the presentations are sponsored by a nonpartisan organization and all candidates or sides of an issue are invited to participate.
6. The library's facilities may not be used as a campaign headquarters or meeting site for campaign committees.
7. Individuals or representatives of organizations seeking signatures for petitions for ballot issues are only permitted outside of the library. Petitioners are not allowed to harass library customers and may not block the entrance to the library. Petitioners are asked to notify library staff when they are on library property.
8. As paid representatives of the library, DCDL staff members have an obligation to maintain the political neutrality of the library and will refrain from active or passive campaign activities while on library premises or on library time.

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this policy is to provide uniform guidelines and standards that allow staff to consistently deliver excellent reference service throughout the library system. These guidelines are not intended to be rigid or comprehensive. Reference staff should use good judgment when applying these principles and should adapt them to fit specific situations.

GENERAL POLICIESResponsibility for Service:

All staff are expected to provide assistance to customers to the extent possible. However, staff on duty at the reference desk have primary responsibility for responding to requests for information and questions concerning library resources.

Authoritative Answers:

In order to ensure accuracy, every answer should be based on an authoritative source. No personal opinions or interpretations should be given. The source should always be cited and, if relevant, the date of publication given.

Unanswered Questions:

It is the responsibility of the staff member receiving a question to ensure that the patron ultimately receives an answer. Requests for materials or information should never be left with the assumption that others will take care of them. If a staff member is having difficulty, he or she should consult with other staff for assistance. If necessary, staff may take the customer's contact information, continue the search, and follow up within an agreed upon time.

Referrals:

Referrals should be made after all available resources have been checked unsuccessfully. Staff should be familiar with the resources and services of other libraries, businesses, and agencies.

IN PERSON REFERENCE SERVICEPriorities:

Customers visiting the library in person receive priority over customers on the telephone.

Customers should be helped in the order in which they come to the desk. However, it is important to acknowledge those who may have to wait. If possible, such customers should be referred to other staff. They may be asked to quickly state their needs and be given initial suggestions of where to begin.

Every customer should be given as much help as needed in the shortest possible amount of time. No single customer should monopolize staff time. If a customer needs extra help with a complex question, that customer should be introduced to the appropriate resources and allowed to examine them while the staff member helps other customers and checks back periodically.

Desk Duty:

Desk duties include helping customers locate materials, responding to requests for information, and giving instructions in the use of library resources and equipment.

Staff should remember that they are never off duty during open hours. When necessary, reference staff not scheduled at the desk may be called upon to back up staff at the desk. Staff working the desk should call for assistance when needed.

Staff at the desk should be friendly, alert, and attentive to the needs of library customers. Staff may perform work-related tasks at the desk, but should never become so engrossed that they appear unapproachable.

If it is necessary for staff to leave the desk, they should make every effort to return as soon as possible. Whenever possible, other staff should be alerted of the need to cover the desk. Tasks that require more than a few minutes away from the desk should be performed during times of double coverage or during staff's off-desk time.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

Telephones in public areas are for official library calls. Personal calls should be kept to a minimum and should be conducted at a phone not in the public area. Customers may use the phone to make brief local calls only. The library does not page anyone except in emergency situations. It is acceptable to ask the nature of the emergency.

To ensure that lines are not tied up, all telephone calls should be as brief as possible. If a question will require a considerable amount of searching, staff should offer to call the customer back within an agreed upon time. For lengthy or complicated answers, customers should be encouraged to come to the library to pick up materials or arrange for an alternative method of delivery (fax, mail, email.)

The telephone should be answered as quickly as possible. Staff should always identify their department or location, but personal identification is optional. Customers visiting the library in person have priority over the customer on the phone. If it is necessary to answer the phone while helping another customer, staff should first determine whether the caller can be immediately helped or rerouted, then place the caller on hold until the first customer is finished. Calls should be allowed to go to voice mail only when necessary. Messages should be checked frequently and calls should be returned in a timely manner.

LIMITATIONS OF REFERENCE SERVICE

Every effort should be made to give each customer the highest possible level of reference service. However, this level will necessarily vary according to several factors. These include:

- Customer's time constraints
- Complexity of the question
- Availability of requested materials
- Amount of information needed
- Amount of information available
- Scope of the library's resources
- Number of customers needing assistance
- Number of staff available to help
- Expertise of available staff

Staff should balance the needs of individual customers with the needs of all library customers who are seeking service. Staff may sometimes be required to explain to customers why the level of service offered may vary. Staff should encourage customers to visit the library at times when extra assistance may be available.

REFERENCE QUESTIONS THAT REQUIRE SPECIAL APPROACHES

Appraisals:

Library staff does not appraise old books, collectibles, or antiques. Current market values can be looked up in available sources, and the customer can be referred to dealers or other experts as needed.

Genealogy:

While staff is expected to provide assistance with the genealogical materials in the collection, extensive genealogical research is not done by library staff. Staff cannot perform lengthy searches through un-indexed materials. Specific requests for information about individuals or events may be answered as resources allow. Customers who need more help may be referred to other agencies such as the Genealogical Society.

Legal Information:

Under no circumstances should staff provide any legal advice. Library staff may look up entries in general legal references such as dictionaries and encyclopedias, retrieve requested articles, and track down specific citations for printing or other delivery. No elaborations, interpretations, or opinions may be offered. Customers with complicated legal questions must perform their own research, but staff may direct them to the available resources. Information requests dealing with the selection, use or completion of tax forms are to be handled as requests for legal information.

Mathematical Questions:

Library staff should not do mathematical computations for customers. Information from tables and formulas can be given, but customers should do their own calculations and interpretations. The use of online calculators and conversion tools is acceptable, but the source should always be cited.

Medical Questions:

Brief definitions and descriptions can be provided from medical sources. These sources should be quoted verbatim, with no interpretation given. Staff cannot diagnose conditions or recommend treatment, nor are personal experiences to be discussed. If customers need more information, they should be instructed to do more in-depth research on their own.

Reader's Advisory:

As part of their professional work, librarians help customers choose materials. This activity is unavoidably subjective, but it should be based on a thorough assessment of the customer's interests. Suggestions may come from specialized print and online resources or from personal knowledge. However, they should be free from personal bias.

School Assignments:

These questions are handled in the same manner as other questions. Short answers will be given over the phone, but students are encouraged to come to the library to do more extensive research. It is important to offer students instruction in the use of the library, and staff should show them how to look for information and evaluate sources, rather than complete their assignments for them. Other staff should be alerted concerning recurring homework questions. If a problem arises concerning a class assignment, staff should try to obtain the name of the school and the teacher and discuss ways to resolve the issue. The library's "We Tried" form should be given to students when appropriate materials are not available.

Teacher Requests:

The preferred method for handling requests for classroom materials is to direct the teacher to complete a subject or title request through the school's library or media center. All local schools have been informed of this procedure. Teachers may choose to borrow materials on their personal cards, but these loans are subject to normal circulation rules and restrictions. Teachers requesting assistance in selecting titles should be treated with the same consideration as any library customer.

Translations:

Lengthy translations cannot be made, but words and simple phrases can be looked up in dictionaries when available. Online translators may be used, but their limitations should be explained to the customer. As with all reference questions, the source of the translation must be cited.

SEARCH OHIO

When an item at the library is unavailable for whatever reason, the item may be requested through Search Ohio. The customer will be informed that it will take 3-7 days to receive the item. Requests can be made for any item that is showing available in the Search Ohio catalog. If DCDL has a copy available, the Search Ohio catalog will not allow the request to be made.

When an item is requested it will appear in the customer's record under the "holds" tab and is easy to keep track of if the customer asks about the item. Items will be held for ten (10) days once they are received. Customers may request up to fifty (50) items and check out up to one hundred (100). All Search Ohio items check out for three (3) weeks except videos and DVDs which check out for one (1) week.

There is no charge to request items. A late fine of fifty ($.50) cents per day may be assessed to the customer.

INTERLIBRARY LOANS

When the library does not own a copy of an item and the item is unavailable through Search Ohio, the item may be requested through traditional interlibrary loan. The customer will be informed that it will probably take at least 1-4 weeks to obtain the requested item. Requests can be made for newly published items within the last year, but please inform the customer that the item may not be available for lending. When an item is requested for interlibrary loan, it will be presented to our collection development committee for consideration to purchase.

Once an item is received and processed we will inform the patron by sending a notice when an item is here on the hold shelf. If we are unable to borrow a requested item, a note will be put in the customer's record.

A customer may have up to five interlibrary loans checked out on their card at one time, and up to ten requests pending at the same time. Please note that interlibrary loan checkout periods are considerably shorter than normal checkout periods for library materials. The library will also borrow the same title for the customer up to three times. Once an item has been borrowed three times a note will be put in the patron's record. No renewals will be made.

Although there is no charge to request an item, a late fine of $.50 per day per item may be added to the customer's library account for each day the item is overdue. Customers will lose their interlibrary loan privileges the fourth time an interlibrary loan item is requested by them and not picked up.

LETTERS AND EMAIL

A response is made to most print and electronic correspondence. The same limitations apply to these questions as to other forms of reference service. A telephone or electronic response can be made instead of a letter if it will save time or money. Letter writers living in the area should be encouraged to visit the library. If warranted, staff should provide information about the library's homebound service.

PHOTOCOPIES

Customers are encouraged to make their own photocopies, but staff are expected to provide assistance when needed. Copies delivered by mail or fax are subject to per page charges and postage. There is no charge for pages copied from noncirculating materials and sent to another branch for pick up.

REFERENCE LOANS

Loans of non-circulating material may occasionally be made at the discretion of the director or deputy director or the person in charge during their absence. Such loans are usually limited to 24 hours. Factors that are considered when deciding if an item can be borrowed include the value of the item, the number of copies owned, whether the item is replaceable, the availability of the item in other formats, and local demand for the item. Overdue reference books may be subject to fines.

Security/Surveillance Camera Records

Board Policy:

To help secure the safety of library patrons, staff and property through the use of surveillance and security cameras.

Administrative Procedure:

1. Surveillance cameras will be placed in critical locations inside and outside of library buildings.
2. Surveillance cameras will operate 24 hours per day.
3. Because these recordings are security records, they are not considered to be public records and are explicitly exempt from disclosure under the public records law.
4. Digital images recorded by surveillance equipment will typically be retained for a period determined by the storage capacity of the equipment. As new images are recorded, the oldest images will be automatically deleted.
